About

Introduction

While Decentralized Finance (DeFi) continues to make waves and maintain its parabolic growth, yield farming remains a popular tool for generating returns from long-term holdings. For the uninitiated, yield farming is simply the act of staking your assets into a platform to earn yield.

Platform

We choose Binance Smart Chain as the main platform rather than Ethereum for Yield farming because Ethereum has been facing extreme network congestion. Gas price has increased dramatically, even for simple transactions. Increasing the gas price has made it impossible for many users to use the Ethereum blockchain because it is no longer economically viable. Therefore, we choose the Binance Smart Chain platform, which will be better for all users of wDogeecoin.

DeFi on Ethereum is mainly given to more giant whales who have hundreds of thousands of dollars. They will gradually migrate to the Binance Smart Chain Network in the future, which is the leading advantage of wBitcoin and wDogecoin. We have a farm for top coins, in which Bitcoin and Dogecoin are the two leading coins.

The key points of wBitcoin and wDogeCoin are eliminating excessive incentives, distributing rewards fairly, and removing financial barriers for small-scale investors.

NFT Marketplaces

The type of Yield farming that doesn't interest you is a bunch of NFTs. We allow users to create their own NFTs, buy and sell NFTs with wBitcoin and wDogecoin on the NFT Marketplace platform. You will enjoy it. It will be coming soon!

wDogecoin

NFT Marketplaces

Deposit NFT to get assets. Users can use any wBitcoin or wDogecoin cryptographic token to use NFTs, which are randomly generated and can be classified into five groups: bronze, silver, gold, platinum, and diamond to determine the mining power of NFT.
